

Even students need help eating healthy.

CALFRESH CAN HELP STUDENTS GET HEALTHY FOOD

If you are a student, you may qualify for CalFresh benefits.

Who can qualify?

Students may qualify for CalFresh if they meet ALL of the following requirements:

- Are between 18 and 49 years old
- Attend school at least half time
- Are physically and mentally fit

In addition, students must meet ONE of the following requirements to qualify:

- Are working at least 20 hours per week and getting paid for it
- Are approved for some kinds of work study programs
- Are in an on-the-job training program
- Are receiving CalWORKS benefits
- Have a child under age 6
- Have a child between age 6 and 12, and no childcare services are available
- Are a single parent who attends school full-time and has a child under age 12

Can other students qualify?

Other students can still apply for CalFresh if they meet ONE of the following requirements:

- Are younger than 18 or over 49 years old
- Are enrolled less than half time in college
- Have a disability
- Have a doctor's note saying that they are not physically or mentally fit

- Are studying for their General Educational Development (GED)
- Are enrolled in a non-degree program

Did you know?

- Even if a student is not eligible, other people in his/her household can get CalFresh.
- If a student is not eligible, his/her income does not count as part of the household total.
- Students who are enrolled in a non-credit course such as English as a Second Language (ESL) or GED prep can still get CalFresh benefits.
